Tom: Excuse me, Emma. I noticed that one of the rides seems to be experiencing technical difficulties. The safety harnesses aren't working properly. It's important to address this issue before anyone gets on the ride.

Emma: Thank you for bringing it to my attention, Tom. Safety is our utmost concern. I will immediately notify the maintenance team and have them inspect and fix the safety harnesses. We cannot operate the ride until it's deemed safe.

Tom: I appreciate your prompt response, Emma. Should we also notify the other visitors and advise them to avoid the ride until it's fixed?

Emma: Absolutely, Tom. I will make an announcement on the park's loudspeaker system, notifying all visitors about the technical issue and advising them to refrain from using the ride until further notice.

Tom: That's important to ensure everyone's safety. Are there any alternative attractions or rides you would recommend in the meantime?

Emma: Yes, we have several other attractions that are fully operational. I will provide you with a map and highlight some of the popular rides and shows you can enjoy while we resolve the issue with the ride.

Tom: Thank you, Emma. I appreciate your assistance. Safety is paramount, and it's reassuring to see the park taking immediate action to address any potential risks.
